Efficiency ... ?

Cotton's New Look

Smoke in Balkans

High on the list of fellows I don't like is the efficiency expert who figures to save money by making an entire slope so small it will just barely accommodate the piece of mail that goes into it.

He saves money for his outfit, it is true — but at the expense of my fingernails.

One of two things ought to happen:

Either I ought to develop more efficient fingernails,

Or, this fellow ought to become really efficient and discontinue both his letters and envelopes — which newspapers throw away without reading anyway. Worst offenders in the "light envelope" matter are people who are seeking publicity — not paid advertising — and therefore ought to be trying to make the opening of the mail more convenient rather than more difficult for short-tempered editors.

On this page yesterday you read that a House of Representatives subcommittee has begun hearing testimony in Washington with the view of possibly revising the cotton acreage allotment act.

This is good news for our section.

All are agreed that there has to be a sharp and positive cut in cotton production. We are to avoid complete withdrawal of government price support. But common sense demands that the cut be distributed fairly evenly over the whole cotton-producing section and graduated over several years if possible.

The United States may give limited military aid to Marshal Tito should Russia's Communist Bloc attempt to move in on rebellious little Yugoslavia, so a Washington dispatch told us on this page yesterday.

War? Hardly that. There's always a lot of smoke in the Balkans — and usually some fire, more or less. But it will be as rough on Russia as it is on us to go meddling into the private affairs of Yugoslavia — so some hard talk at this stage of the game seems to be a calculated risk that's a reasonable enough gamble.

Blevins PTA Taking Care of Children

The expression is common, "I wouldn't take a million dollars for my child but wouldn't give a nickel for another just like him."

What is a child worth? Well, that calls for an answer we never express in dollars and cents. But let one of our children be sick or in physical danger and there is no extreme to which we will not go to recover for him his health and safety.

P. T. A. of Blevins believes the old adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." That belief is being translated into action.

Of first concern is the health of the nearly one thousand children in the Blevins school. Through the efforts and leadership of P. T. A. President Mrs. R. D. Bonds, and the co-operation of our County Health Nurse, Mrs. Turner, a school clinic was organized and will be completed this week. Co-operation of the parents and others in the community has been wholehearted and complete.

The second concern of the P. T. A. seems to be based on the fact that a healthy child is more likely to have a good appetite. So, thoughts turned to the luncheon. Mrs. Houser, school lunch supervisor, certainly puts up a real feed.

Health, a good meal in pleasant surroundings — that's the P. T. A. is having the school's four pianos tuned and put in first class condition.

These three projects have been sponsored and carried out by the P. T. A. with no expense to the school what so ever.

The school has not just stood by and watched the face lifting. The Superintendent and Board of Education have been working overtime. Supt. Jas. R. Meaders will be in Little Rock Thursday and Friday of this week working on plans for the construction of buildings and installation of indoor toilet facilities.

to get under way in the near future. The plans for the new present buildings are scheduled there.

Regular P. T. A. meeting Thursday January 12, 7:30 p. m.

Veterans to Get Insurance Checks Monday

Washington, Jan. 12 — (UP) — The mailman will deliver U. S. government checks to some half a million veterans Monday morning. It's the beginning of the grand payoff on GI life insurance. In all, some $2,800,000,000 in dividends will be paid out to 16,000,000 veteran policyholders.

Mass writing of the dividend checks starts today. By next week the U. S. treasury electronic check-writing machines will be grinding them out at the rate of 200,000 a day.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder and Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson were expected to celebrate the start of the tremendous assembly line operation at 10:30 a. m. EST.

The veterans administration plans to distribute the checks by a "block" mailing system. Between now and Monday an estimated 500,000 checks will be mailed out to local postoffices. They will be held up there for mass deliveries on Monday.

The checks range from 60 cents to $250, depending on the age of the recipient and the size of his policy. The maximum will go to the man who was less than 40 when he took out the insurance, and carried $10,000 for the full period from Oct. 8, 1940 to Jan. 1, 1948.

The government intends to settle some $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in old debts while it pays out the insurance dividends. Debts owed to the government by veterans for such things as overpayments on subsistence allowances, will be deducted from the dividend before a check is mailed.

On the back of every check will be the suggestion: Buy U. S. savings bonds.

March of Dimes Drive Opens Jan. 16

The 1950 March of Dimes gets under way in Hempstead county and throughout the nation Monday January 16 and will continue until the end of the month.

During that two-week period citizens of Hempstead county like their fellow-Americans in all parts of the country will help write the answer to the threat of polio epidemics next summer by providing for continued care and treatment of polio patients of 1949 and prior years.

Termining the 1950 March of Dimes the most critical in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Mr. Eddie Holland Hempstead county campaign Director, said that the fund-raising machinery is all set to launch the greatest March of Dimes ever undertaken.

"It is imperative," Mr. Holland said "that all know the seriousness of today's polio situation. More than 40,000 cases were reported during 1949, the worst year in the history of the disease in this country."

"Thanks to public support of previous annual appeals of the National Foundation prompt and effective aid was rendered the stricken children. As a result, a developed chapter after chapter of the National Foundation found itself without funds. Financial aid was rushed to them from the organization's epidemic reserve fund. So great was the drain that millions of dollars earmarked for emergency assistance dwindled to the vanishing point."

Middlebrooks Suit Sent to Circuit Court

Chancery Judge Steel last yesterday after hearing witnesses and discussing issues involving the widening of 12th Street from Main to Walnut ruled he did not have jurisdiction over the case and dismissed it.

The suit was filed by Miss Lillie Middlebrooks against the City of Hope asking a restraining order against city action in condemnation of land which she owns for widening the street.

The city already has filed a condemnation suit in Hempstead Circuit Court had the land appraised and offered Miss Middlebrooks $100.

After a daylong session yesterday in which practically every issue was discussed and witnesses testified Judge Steel said that he believed all issues could be handled in Circuit Court and dismissed Miss Middlebrooks' case from his jurisdiction.

No Agreement in Telephone Negotiations

St. Louis, Jan. 12 (AP) — U. S. conciliators seem to have reached the end of the line in trying to avert a strike against Southwest Bell Telephone Co.

They made another futile effort yesterday to break the deadlock that exists between the company and its 50,000 CIO employees.

Conciliator A. E. Johnson reported that neither side would yield, which means that unless there is some unexpected development by midnight Sunday, a strike in the six-state area served by the utility is possible.

That's the date which marks the end of a truce arranged by Gov. Forrest Smith.

A union spokesman would not say whether a strike is planned for next week. He did say, however, that as long as the company maintains its arrogant and stubborn position, there is little hope of the dispute being settled peacefully.

The deadlock developed last Friday when the company rejected the union's demand for a 15 cents an hour wage increase.

Johnson said the company will sue, nor does the union wish to compromise. He added that no further meetings are planned to bring the disputants together.

The union's guarded statement about strike possibilities led to speculation that the Southwest Bell walkout might be timed to coincide with a nationwide telephone strike scheduled for next month.

Italy May Get a One-Party Government

Rome, Jan. 12 — (AP) — Premier Alcide De Gasperi and his anti-communist coalition cabinet resigned today in a move that may give Italy its first one-party government since the war.

The shakeup, agreed upon at a cabinet session last night, was promised two months ago. De Gasperi, whose Christian Democratic party controls parliament, was expected to resign to be President Luigi Einaudi's choice to form a new government.

The outgoing cabinet meanwhile remained in office temporarily.

A strong faction of De Gasperi's party for some time has been made up entirely of Christian Democrats. The premier himself has said often Italy should have a coalition government because many voters, not actually Christian Democrats, vote for his strongly Catholic party as an anti-communist gesture.

The outgoing cabinet, the fifth coalition lineup De Gasperi has headed since 1945, included a few liberals (actually conservative in policy), moderate to left Republicans and an independent.

The cabinet reorganization was promised last October when three anti-communist Labor Socialist ministers resigned because of trouble within their own party. The cabinet had been in office since the landslide Christian Democratic victory in the April, 1948 elections.

In forming a new coalition De Gasperi might have difficulty getting cooperation from the liberals, who presently are torn over the issue of continued participation in a Catholic-dominated government.

Neither the Republicans, whose leader is Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, nor the Labor Socialists (PSLI) now would object to joining a new cabinet, however.

De Gasperi has no serious opponent for the premiership.

Meanwhile Italy's second largest party, the communists, and left-wing Socialists allied with them, tried to exploit to the utmost the shooting by police of six workers during a strike riot in Modena Monday.

The cabinet resignation, however, had no connection with the furor caused by the shootings.

Chevrolet Co. Fire Loss Is About $2,000

A fire about 1 a. m. at Young Chevrolet Company, East Second, resulted in about $2,000 damage, it was estimated today.

The blaze is believed to have been caused by a shortage in wiring. It burned some valuable radio equipment, radios, glasses, burned two motors and damaged several others, and some special tools.

Heaviest loss was in the radio equipment and special tools and parts E. P. Young, owner and manager, said today. It's difficult to estimate the loss will not exceed $2,000, Mr. Young said.

The blaze was extinguished by the Hope Fire Department.

Stricken Area Gets More Rainfall

By The Associated Press

More rain fell today on the flood stricken areas of Indiana and Illinois increasing the danger of fresh breaks in weakened dikes.

The rain belt which covered the water-soaked areas along the Indiana-Illinois boundary line extended from central Texas to the lower Ohio valley. It spread northward to the flood region. Rain during the early morning hours was reported moderate in most sections. The forecast was for rain through most of the day. Rising temperatures also were predicted.

The mild weather was in prospect for most of the Midwest but a new batch of cold air was on the way. Temperatures were above normal from the Gulf to Lake Superior, the icy blasts already had moved in from northwest Canada and spread over Montana and North Dakota. Temperatures dropped to 18 below zero at Cut Bank, Mont. and to 8 below a Minot, N. D. The cold was expected to spread over the north central region by tonight and tomorrow.

Indiana's biggest river the Wabash spilling out over farmlands and highways was expected to crest late tonight or early Friday at Washington. The 2000 residents in the southwestern Indiana city were told it would not be as high as had been expected.

Army engineers said they had men and equipment available to cope with a 36-foot crest. Weather Bureau Chief Paul A. Miller of Indianapolis revised his crest prediction downward to 27 or 27 1/2 feet.

Flood danger appeared rising at Hazleton 14 miles south of Vincennes as the White river, a Wabash tributary lapped in the 30-foot mark. The small community was partly under water.

There were other danger spots in the flood area where also an estimated 4000 persons have been evacuated from their homes.

One of the big problems will be how to make the most of the wartime prime minister's own personal popularity.

Churchill symbolizes not only the Conservative party but — to his admirers — free private enterprise and old England itself.

He is sure to speak in as many parts of the country as time and his press of duties will permit.

He is almost certain to take his "V" sign and big cigar into the three districts being fought by members of his family — his son, Randolph, and sons-in-law, Duncan Sandys and Capt. Christopher Soames.

If the weather is good, Churchill may make a whirlwind auto tour of the London area, which has 42 of the 25 house of common seats at stake in the voting.

Although his physical energy is remarkable for a man of his years, the old warrior has to watch his health. He is subject to bronchial trouble and the English weather in February is seldom balmy.

Churchill and his lieutenants plan a big campaign for the working people's votes.

Churchill to Get Into Thick of Campaign

London, Jan. 12 — (AP) — Aging Winston Churchill took a plane for England today to lead his Conservative forces in perhaps the last big political battle of his lifetime.

The 75-year-old wartime prime minister was plainly anxious to get into the thick of the campaign for Britain's general election without delay.

The voting will not be until Feb. 23. But Churchill gave up the last four days of his winter vacation on the sunny Portuguese island of Madeira and boarded a flying boat this morning for Southampton.

It was the quickest possible way home. Madeira has no airfield for land planes.

Churchill is expected to call his main party lieutenants — known as "the shadow cabinet" — into session on only a few hours notice.

These are the men who will be Churchill's government ministers if the people recall him to power.

They will draw up the Conservative campaign manifesto and polish the last details of strategy for the showdown with the ruling Labourites.

Slim Chance for Arkansas to Get Airport

Washington, Jan. 12 — (AP) — Statistically, Arkansas has one chance in 100 of getting a new airport. In theory it is established.

Port Smith is among the 195 sites being considered by the academy selection board.

However, congress has not yet authorized the academy.

Russia Busy Seizing North China-Acheson

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said today that Russia now is busy detaching the northern provinces of China and "teaching them to the Soviet Union."

Speaking on Asiatic policy and relations at a National Press club luncheon, the secretary said that this process is complete in Manchuria and nearly so in outer Mongolia.

And, he said, the communist regime in China itself has developed new methods and techniques to help the Russian menace and provide "insidious weapons of penetration."

Nothing puts the cart more solidly before the horse, the secretary said, than the statement he hears nearly every day that "the real interest of the United States in the Far East is to stop the spread of communism."

Of course this government is interested in that, he hastened to add.

But it is interested for a reason far more deeply rooted than the question of conflict with Russia, he said.

America's real interest, he said, is in the Asiatic people as people; it is in protecting their interests and their spirit of independence and self development.

It is to guard these, he said, that the United States wants to check the communist menace.

Acheson said that Russia's designs on Manchuria are a single most important fact in the Far Eastern picture.

The secretary warned that the United States people and its government must avoid "fully or foolish adventures" which would obscure this fact.

Find Bodies of 4 Adults, Two Children

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 12 — (AP) — the bodies of four adults and two children were found in a fire-swept home here today and Deputy Coroner B. W. Tidwell said there was evidence of murder and suicide.

Police said "blood was all over the place" and a woman, who reportedly admitted setting a fire which took the lives of women here last Saturday.

Scott County Attorney Charles Pletch said he filed a charge of "murder with intent to kill" against the woman, who was identified as Elvora Epperly, 23, of Rock Island, Ill.

Flying Arrow Gives Up Blockade Run

By WAYNE RICHARDSON

Aboard the Flying Arrow, Jan. 12 (AP)—This American freighter, her No. 5 hold about to explode, weighed anchor this afternoon for Tsingtao, Chinese communist port on Chantung peninsula.

Water used to extinguish a fire in the hold caused expansion of the cargo of jute, baled cotton and caustic soda. Her master said the danger of an explosion was so pressing he considered it dangerous to wait and try to get into Chinese Nationalist blockaded and mined Red Shanghai.

The ship's owners, the Isbrandtsen line of New York, also ordered the vessel to Tsingtao.

The Flying Arrow was hit by some 40 nationalist gunboat shells Monday on the high seas off Shanghai, her destination from Hong Kong. She is carrying a cargo valued at $10,000,000 for the communists.

Two American destroyers, which have come to the aid of the Flying Arrow after the shelling and subsequent fires aboard, were ordered by the navy to depart from her vicinity after she was seaworthy.

However, Capt. David Jones, 31, of Chicago, said one of the destroyers, the Bausell, would accompany the Flying Arrow on the 350 mile voyage to Tsingtao once the recess from the Cook county jail. Engel has been in the jail for two months, since his conviction of swindling Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, a red haired Chicago widow, of $8,700.

The court also rejected his plea that the prison sentence be delayed until Feb. 20 to allow him to prepare an appeal from his conviction.

base for the American Far Eastern fleet. The Tsingtao harbor is believed free of mines.

(In Taipei, Formosa, Nationalist Chinese headquarters announced the Chinese navy would try to keep communist ports closed even at the risk of further incidents.

(Foreign Vice Minister Shih Chao-ying said the shelling of the Flying Arrow was a "necessary step in the enforcement of the closure order."

(He added: "A sovereign power has the right to prescribe regulations for its ports and sanctions for ships violating them regardless of their nationality."

(Shih disclosed that Robert Strong, U.S. charge d'affaires, discussed the Flying Arrow incident on Wednesday with Foreign Minister George Yeh. Shih said "no document in the nature of a protest has been received." He said Strong's visit was of a fact finding and exploratory nature.

(Shih concluded with the statement: "The opening or closing of ports is a subject of domestic jurisdiction. As such it is different from a blockade in international law."

(Whether this new pronouncement from the nationalist capital on Formosa presaged an attempt by the nationalists to stop the Flying Arrow from reaching Tsingtao was not clear.)

Wafdists to Fill 225 of 318 Seats in Egypt

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 12 (AP)—Egypt's newly-dominant Wafd party will fill 225 of the 318 seats in the country's new parliament which meets Monday.

The interior ministry announced yesterday that run-off elections last Tuesday gave wartime Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha's Wafd group 56 more seats. The party had won 161 seats in the election Jan. 3 to win parliamentary control from the Saadist party. Eight other deputies switched their allegiance to the Wafd after their election.

The ministry gave this final party representation in the new chamber:

Wafdists, 225 seats; Saadists, 28; Liberal Constitutionalists, 28; Independents, 33 Nationalists, 6 and Socialists, one.

New Issue Crops Up in Arkansas Gazette Strike

Little Rock, Jan. 12 (AP)—A strike against the Arkansas Gazette is continuing but not for the reason it was started.

State Labor Commissioner C. K. Call, authorized spokesman for both management and the striking American Newspaper Guild (CIG), announced in a statement last night:

"The issue which originally caused the strike (disagreement over a dismissal clause in a proposed contract) was subsequently resolved in negotiations x x x."

"However, out of the most recent negotiations arose the issue on which no agreement has been reached, causing continuation of the strike. This issue is whether or not employees of the circulation department, who are members of the Guild, are legally members of the bargaining unit."

The labor commissioner added that the national labor relations board had been asked to study the new disagreement.

Call declined to say how the dismissal clause dispute had been settled.

Twenty-three newswriters and photographers struck Dec. 17. Ten circulation employees joined the walkout later.

The Gazette has continued to publish its regular morning editions. A picket line has been maintained around the Gazette building.

DOROTHY DIX

Fiancee Worries

Dear Miss Dix: I have been engaged to a boy for three years and we are no closer to marriage than when we started. He is the sole support of his mother, who is a woman 53 years old, and he does not make enough money to support two homes. We could get married if I would consent to live with his mother, but I don't think that is a sound investment for a happy marriage, although she is not his mother. I loved him that I would be willing to make this sacrifice for him, but I say that it is because I love him that I am afraid to risk breaking up our marriage. What should I do?

Answer: You will find the answer to your problem in your own heart. Look carefully into that and try to find out whether you love your fiance so much that the very thought of life without him is intolerable.

If you feel that existence without him will be a living hell, then go ahead and marry him, notwithstanding the handicap of a mother-in-law. But play fair. Don't take your happiness at the expense of that of the man and his mother.

Better Off Alone

Of course, a marriage has a better chance of success if a young couple can go off by themselves and get up their home alone. But there are many cases, like yours, in which a man cannot support two establishments, and where it is necessary for his mother to live with them.

Whether this is a curse or a blessing depends, as a general thing, upon the spirit in which the young bride meets her mother-in-law. The mean mother-in-law is the exception rather than the rule. It is perfectly possible for a young wife to make a friend of her mother-in-law and to really find in her another mother. Mothers-in-law can be an everpresent help in times of trouble, especially when the babies begin to come, and an overworked and overtaxed young mother is glad enough to have a little assistance.

WERE WOMEN BORN TO SUFFER?

"No," say lots of lucky girls

Maybe you, too, can look back on those "dreary days" each month and reel in blessed relief from pain. For if you suffer from functional periods, discover—as so many other women have—the wonderful help Cardui may bring.

Cardui works internally to help minimize painful contractions of the organ muscles. Thus it aids in overcoming a frequent cause of cramps. Maybe your suffering is needless, too. See what aid of this modern type can do for you. Ask for a bottle of Cardui.

Dear Miss Dix: Won't you please tell me how not to be a human doormat? We have two young children and a small but thriving business, but my husband takes everything and gives me nothing. He uses the car and I walk. He buys the best of clothes. The children and I wear bargains. He buys the groceries, I cook whatever he brings in. He selects all of our clothing even to the color. He supervises the arrangement of our furniture and I'm supposed to like it. He goes out at night. I stay at home. I enjoy going places, too, and my lone driving me wild. What shall I do?

Answer: Perhaps your husband can be made to see how unjustly he is treating you, but unfortunately selfish people always consider that somehow they have a divine right to do as they please and take what they want.

Don't try to tell him, because if you do, he will fly into a passion and you'll begin crying and there will only be a scene. Write him a calm letter in which you

To Women With
Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, nervousness and dizziness. Getting up at night or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Backache and Kidney Pills. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's Backache and Kidney Pills have been the only thing that has done the trick. Dr. Maier of Lutheran Church, Dies

St. Louis, Jan. 11 —(P)—The Rev. Dr. Walter A. Maier, 56, internationally known conductor of the Lutheran radio hour died in a Lutheran hospital here early today. His death followed a fourth heart attack suffered less than two weeks ago.

Dr. Maier entered the hospital four days after Christmas, following a mild heart attack. He suffered another attack last Friday and a third Sunday.

He was a member of the faculty at the Concordia Theological seminary in St. Louis. Since 1935 he had been widely known for his coast-to-coast radio programs.

The Lutheran Hour program is heard over 1,200 radio stations throughout the world each Sunday afternoon. It is transcribed in 36 languages for foreign broadcasts.

Born in Boston, Dr. Maier was graduated from Boston university and Concordia college at St. Louis, Mo. He received a Ph. D. degree from Harvard university.

His first broadcasts originated from stations in Detroit and Cincinnati. In 1940 the Mutual broadcasting system took up his program. During recent years the broadcasts were aired from station KFUP on the campus of the seminary in St. Louis.

Dr. Maier moved to St. Louis in 1922 and became the youngest member of the Concordia faculty.

Owners of Robbed Gambling Joint to Take Care of Loss

New Orleans, Jan. 11 —(UP)—Owners of a gambling casino robbed of between $28,000 and $50,000 shrugged off offers of police aid today and said they would "take care of the bandits."

All indications, however, said the victims might have to do a lot of traveling to accomplish their aim.

The man and his attractive girl friend who staged the precision holdup were believed headed for Mexico.

Both the club owners and police said they knew the male robber because he once worked at the casino.

Sheriff Frank J. Clancy of Jefferson parish said he was joining in the search also, despite the owners' intentions of going it alone. Clancy said the woman was believed to be from Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Ingrid to Give Up Custody of Daughter

Rome, Jan. 12 (UP)—A lawyer said today that Ingrid Bergman had agreed to give up custody of her daughter in a divorce settlement with her husband, as she can marry Roberto Rossellini, Italian movie director.

The agreement between Miss Bergman and her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, Hollywood surgeon, was reported by Gino Solis, attorney for Rossellini.

Solis said the Swedish actress and her husband "already have agreed on the division of property, and there are no other hindrances to the divorce."

The divorce will be obtained in Mexico, the lawyer said, in order to hurry things along.

Dr. Lindstrom will get custody of his and Miss Bergman's 11-year-old daughter, Pia. Solis said.

The agreement was reported after days of negotiations in New York by counsel for Miss Bergman.

Truman Plans for Aiding Education

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Truman has proposed the programs for helping education with government money. Neither can start unless congress approves.

1. Under plan No. 1 the government would give the starts about $300,000,000 a year to help them provide more and better education in the grammar and high schools. With this money which would go to the states more teachers could be hired or teachers could be paid better to keep them teaching, or more and better school houses could be built.

2. This is the well-known federal aid to education plan. The senate approved it in 1949, but not the house. This year the house also may approve. If so, plan No. 1 will begin.

3. Plan No. 2, less well-known than the other, would provide scholarships for students who have the ability and desire to go to college but can't afford it. How much would this cost?

About $100,000,000 a year, say government specialists now trying to work out details of the plan which the President can offer to congress for action.

Would that 100,000,000 provide scholarships for every student who had the ability and desire to go to college but couldn't afford it? No. The specialists say it would give scholarships to perhaps 175,000 students. Does that cover all who might need such help? No, again say the specialists. Just a small percentage.

This year congress will be asked to vote $1,000,000 to lay the foundations for the plan, once that's done, if it's done, then congress will be asked to put it into operation with perhaps $100,000,000 a year.

This federal scholarship idea isn't new. Educators have discussed it for years. It was recommended in 1947 by the President's commission on higher education, a group of educators and distinguished citizens appointed by Mr. Truman to study college needs.

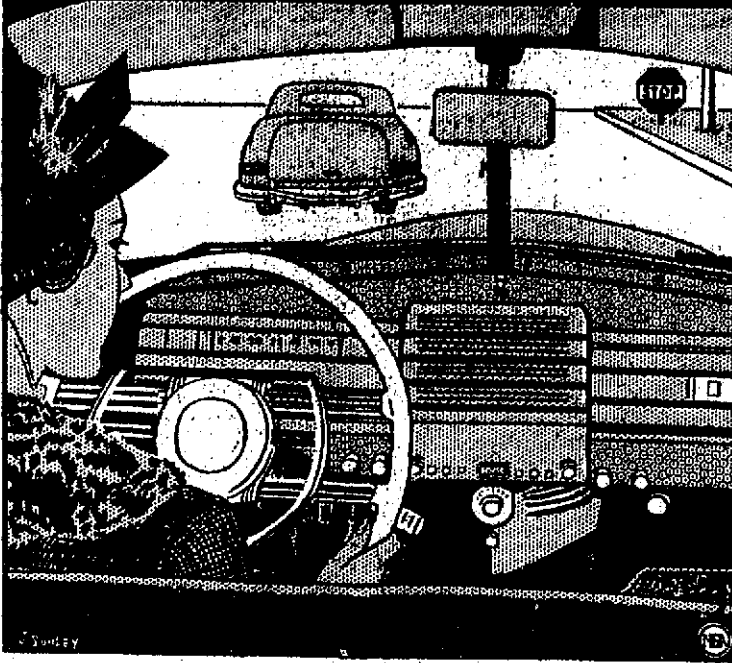

Not all educators agree it's a good thing. Some of the opponents argue this way:

Ambitious and needy students can still find ways of going through college. If the government pays the freight for them, they will get the notion we have a "welfare state." There's no reason why ordinary people should be taxed to give an education to those brighter than the rest of us. It might lead to federal control of schools.

Supporters of the plan put their views this way, in part:

Government scholarships are necessary to equalize educational opportunities. There's little or no danger of federal control in such a program. The government right

Jap Trawler Fired on in Korean Area

San Francisco, Jan. 12 (AP)—Globe wireless intercepted a message from the Taiyo Maru out of Nagasaki, Japan, today saying she had been fired on with machineguns by a guard boat off the south Korean island of Cheju.

The message said:

"Was fired on with machinegun by something like guard boat nationality unknown. Still safe but other large sized trawler was captured. Be careful nearby."

now is helping 67 land-grant colleges — state-supported schools — with more than $170,000,000 a year. The government has spent more than $3,500,000,000 on education for war veterans.

To the argument — "ambitious and needy students can still find ways of going through college" — the U. S. Commissioner of Education, Earl J. McGrath, says:

"This is a myth. Some do get through. But among the highly gifted graduates of high schools... There are at least as many who never get to college as there are those who do."

In his budget message Mr. Truman said: "The nation cannot afford to waste human potentialities, as we are now doing, by... Failing to help hundreds of thousands of young people who could benefit from higher education."

You'll hear more of this when the plan, in detail, goes to congress.

I Love My Doctor

By Evelyn Barkins

After six months of marriage, I felt as supercilious about ordinary diseases as an ermine wrap next to a skunk jacket in a department store. I was a little hangover from too much excitement. I told myself after my mother left with her dire forebodings: "Of course I won't tell John."

But John, when he came home in a little while, didn't need telling.

"Still angry, dear?" he asked. When it came to interpreting my emotions, John could sometimes be as deft as a bank clerk trying to diagnose stomach ulcers.

"Of course not," I said with needless temper.

"Then you don't feel well," he said, a little more definitely. "Let me examine you."

"That's not necessary," I stonily refused. "I'm probably tired from all that burglar scare last night. A good night's sleep will fix me up fine, you'll see."

The next morning I couldn't get up at all.

"I'm going to examine you whether you like it or not," said John.

"Let me alone," I yelled.

"There's nothing the matter with me. I've got to go to school."

"You're feverish," he retorted furiously.

"And you're just making a fuss like always. Remember last time?"

It was perhaps unfair to refer to last time, for certainly John remembered it only too well. We were driving two weeks before, after a tremendous dinner at a near-by restaurant, when suddenly John got a pain. Now any pain, from a shaving scratch to a common belch, makes a man act as if he were undergoing anesthesia. He groans, he moans, he writhes, like a patient at the Wailing Wall, and practically argues his epitaph with his life insurance beneficiaries.

But when a doctor gets a pain he makes his wounded but serene look comparatively like Indian fakirs walking stoically over live coals.

With the very first onslaught, John pulled the car up at the curb, cut the motor dead, and sat stock still.

"What's the matter?" I asked in alarm.

"I've got a pain in my chest," he answered. "Here."

"Oh, I see," I said, feeling relieved. "I told you not to eat that extra potato, besides finishing my pie. It was too much. Let's get home, and you can take some bicarb."

For answer, John groaned, like a death-rattling hippopotamus.

He hesitated. "I'm afraid it might be a heart attack," he reluctantly admitted. "It usually starts with precordial pains, like this."

"Oh, John," I said eagerly, "that's silly. It can't be that. It's probably digestive. Why must you always put fancy names and frightening fears on every little thing? I thought you once told me that couraries usually occur in the late forties or early fifties, and you're not even 30."

He still spoke low, when he answered, but with a reassuring firmness that he felt the discussion entailed.

"There are cases on record," he told me, "where coronaries were reported as early as 24 and 26."

All my married life, I have cursed literature with its dangerous rules and exceptions.

"Very well," I said finally, since there was no disputing the Board of Internal Medicine, "let's go home. Can you drive?"

"I'd better not take a chance on driving," John said. "You'd better phone Bob at the hospital and tell him. He'll know what to do."

"All right," I got out of the car, and, at his request, helped him into the rear where he solemnly lay himself down on the back seat like King Arthur on his funeral barge. "I'll be right back," I said, turning to go to the nearest public telephone, suddenly fully aware of the genuine fear on his face.

"It can't be anything," I told myself. "It's just his usual medical exaggeration of a simple situation."

After a quick conversation with Bob who consented to come right by, I walked the few blocks back to the car as if they were the last mile in Sing Sing.

In about five minutes, or even less, Bob rode up in the hospital ambulance, with all the sirens going full blast like a five-alarm fire. "Just you relax," he told us both. "Dr. Gillespie is here."

"Wanta ride?" Shorty McGurk, the ambulance driver asked. "I had always teased for one."

"Not later, Shorty," I said, trying to smile over my worry. "Maybe later."

And then, finally, Bob came out with John following sheepishly. "What a phony!" Bob said. "Got a little gas pain and thinks he's dying. I brought along Tony's portable electrocardiograph, and ran a test just to be doubly sure. It's negative but all he's got is a plain old stomach ache."

At first I was so relieved that I threw my arms joyfully about the former condemned man and kissed him. Then I remembered everything, and turned on him in righteous indignation. "Scaring the life out of me! Didn't I tell you it was nothing?" I demanded.

"You — you worrier!"

"I'd have felt the same," Bob spoke up, trying to defend John.

"You glorified plumber!" I raged climbing in beside Shorty McGurk. "Let's take a ride, Shorty. I said, 'and ring all the bells. I've had enough!'"

But it was never enough, and I welded the story like an Amazoian club over John's head, whenever necessary. But that morning, my diversionary move failed. "That's over," John said definitely. "You stay right here. I'll get my bag from the office and examine you."

Housing Plan Comes Up for First Test

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Truman's request for "moderate income" housing came up for first test today before the subcommittee on housing of the Senate Committee on Banking and Finance.

The bill, which would authorize the construction of moderate income housing for middle income groups was introduced by Chairman Maybank (D-SC). It would set up a program for the purchase of moderately priced housing by cooperatives.

The Maybank bill, reflecting the views of the administration, was introduced as a substitute for a measure offered last session by Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), a long-term basis and at a low rate of interest "thus eliminating the necessity for direct federal aid."

Sparkman has said the substitute is satisfactory to him.

Maybank's bill also would:

1. Authorize the housing and

Italian Director Now Working on His Divorce

Turin, Italy, Jan. 12 (AP)—Lawyers for film director Roberto Rossellini and his former wife are scheduled to appear in court here tomorrow to seek Italian approval of an Austrian severance of their marriage.

It was expected that neither Rossellini nor his wife, the former Marcella De Marchis, would appear in court for the action, which was disclosed in records of the appeals tribunal.

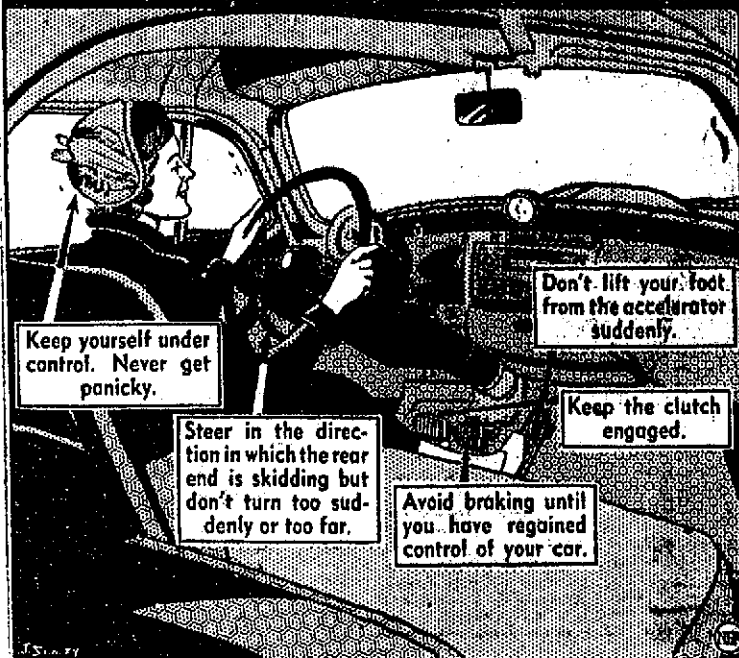

Rossellini and his wife were married in Civitavecchia, near Rome, in 1938. They had two children, one of whom died. Court records disclosed a Vienna court granted them an annulment Dec. 23, 1949. The Austrian court judgment must be approved by an Italian court to be valid in Italy.

Rossellini has announced that he and film actress Ingrid Bergman plan to marry when they sever their legal ties with their present spouses.

home finance administrator to make preliminary advances of funds to housing cooperatives and non-profit housing corporations to assist in formulation of projects. A revolving fund of $25,000,000 would be set up for the purpose.

2. Establish under the supervision of the housing and home finance administrator a mixed-ownership corporation known as the national mortgage corporation for housing cooperatives.

Britain Is at the Parting of the Way and Outcome Will Decide Fate of Socialism

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The general election which finally has been set by the British Socialist government for February 23 in the long history of that country. It is no ordinary election. It is a pause for an accounting of the stewardship of the country's first completely socialistic regime. And upon the outcome of that accounting hinges the far-reaching decision of whether England shall continue as Socialist state or shall scrap socialism and return to capitalism.

If the decision is that socialism shall be continued in power it in all probability will mean that this island has come to stay indefinitely. Socialism could be thrown out now because it hasn't had time to sink its roots and get a firm grip on the country. But give it another five years and it will so have changed the way of life and economy of the nation that a turning back would be difficult.

That is to say, if the Conservatives under leadership of Winston Churchill are to regain power, they will have to turn the trick next month. Five years hence will be too late. Socialism will be rooted.

So Britain is at the parting of the ways. Which road is she likely to take? Well, the prophets are evading that one and are mumbling in their beards. Independent observers think the election will be a close thing. Being of Scotch descent and canny, we avoid predictions.

However, the winning side is likely to be the one which the rank and file think will do most for the welfare of the home and family.

The average Britisher thinks in terms of security of the family. That feeling is so pronounced that he will cling to a job which pays a small wage but is lasting, rather than take a chance on highly paid work which isn't certain to last. It's on that basis that he is going to weigh the respective merits of the major parties in the election.

Perhaps the greatest strength of the Socialists lies in the fact that the rank and file of workers have had a rather tough time during the past generation. Of course this has been due to a lot of elements, including two world wars which have raised havoc with the economy of the country. However, what probably remains foremost in the minds of the man in the street is that capital and labor weren't able to get together, and both suffered.

A typical example was the national crisis of 1925 in the all-important coal mining industry. The mine owners called for wage reductions, claiming that the mines weren't paying their way because of increased cost of production and loss of markets in the world war. The miners were against cuts and maintained among other things that the trouble was the wastefulness of piece-meal ownership. The workers called for nationalization of the mines to overcome this.

Living conditions among the miners in many districts were terrible. In many areas the miners' families were hungry and cold, as I well know since I was stationed in London for the AP at that time. The great general strike of 1926 (the world's first general strike) was an outgrowth of this situation.

There are plenty of British voters who remember those tough days. They also note that the coal industry finally has been nationalized—under the Socialists. The Socialist government also has inaugurated its big medical welfare program, which has an appeal in England.

These facts may register heavily when the ballots are cast.

The rank and file are going to vote for the party which they think can provide that "security first." There will be less interest in "private initiative."

Bucking Horse Apparently Not So Dumb

Denver, Jan. 12 (AP)—There are about 200 very smart bucking broncos on hand here today. And the odds are that tomorrow they'll do a fair job of making Friday the thirteenth a traditionally melancholy day for some of the cowpokes who try to ride them.

Maybe you never thought of a bucking bronco as being smart. There are folks who think the buckers are simply horses who flunked out as saddle carriers.

Vern Elliott, 59, manager of the National Western Stock show rodeo which gets rolling Friday, sees it differently.

The average bucking horse earns a living the old way," Elliott says. "He doesn't work more than 15 minutes a year. That's not my idea of being dumb."

Elliott owns all the bucking horses which will be used here for the rodeo. For the past 30 years he's collected horses with reliably nasty dispositions and he's learned that old horses make the best buckers.

The most wickedly imaginative animal ever to land in his stable was Midnight, a lucky black that was bucked some 2,000 times. No rider ever lasted the full 10 seconds. Midnight was 11 years old when Elliott got him. He was retired at 23 and died at 24 (an age uncommon for a horse for human beings).

Midnight's least lovable trick was to lunge high, come down with a bang on his front feet, kicking out with his hind legs and tossing his head back at the same time.

Best of the current crop here is Squaw Man, an aged Strawberry roan (nobody's sure just how aged) who resembles a retired ice-wagon horse. Squaw Man is a "crooked jumper" who shivers and twitches like a badly-thrown javelin in the air. After being bucked he returns to his pen and kicks the daylight out of the other horses until he is tired enough to take a nap.

Elliott's horses have bucked at every major rodeo in the nation. Madison Square Garden is an old story to them. So is the big Frontier Days show at Cheyenne. And some of them have bucked in Europe. The average bucking horse performs from 100 to 150 times a year.

Elliott's veteran is old T. Joe, a 24-year-old gelding (they're all geldings) who's been bucked in the neighborhood of 4,000 times. Says his owner: "I reckon there's been more money won and lost on T. Joe than on any other horse in the world—and that goes for the racers, too."

Of course T. Joe doesn't know about the money. But he probably knows he'll eat steadily as long as he puts in his 15 minutes of work each year.

You couldn't call T. Joe dumb, could you?

Sinkiang Province in western China is nearly three times as large as Texas.

Publishers to See a Fashion Show

Little Rock, Jan. 12 (AP)—Something new and different is on the agenda when the men and women who edit and publish Arkansas' daily and weekly newspapers convene here tomorrow for a two-day session.

It's a fashion show.

A Little Rock department store is giving its version of what the well-dressed newspaper woman will wear this year. No mention is made about styles for the masculine side being displayed.

The preview of fashions is one of the highlights of the first meeting of the Arkansas newspaper women, organized last June. It will be held Saturday morning while the Arkansas Press association will be conducting its 79th annual mid-winter business session. The APA also holds sessions tomorrow.

Tom Allen, Brinkley publisher and state representative, is slated to be elevated to the presidency, succeeding W. H. Love of Warren. It is customary to elevate the first vice-president to the presidency. A third vice-president and two directors also are to be named.

The women also will elect officers. Mrs. M. P. Jones, Jr., Searcy, is president of that group.

Speakers for the APA meeting are Lynn W. Landrum, Dallas News columnist, who will address the dinner Friday night, and Stewart H. Hall, University of Oklahoma public relations director, who will address the Saturday luncheon.

There will be shop talk discussions at both sessions.

Bill Mirter, secretary of the APA, probably will miss the convention because of ill health.

To Be Candidate

Malvern, Jan. 12 (AP)—Joe W. McCoy, Malvern attorney, has announced his candidacy for prosecuting attorney of the seventh judicial circuit.

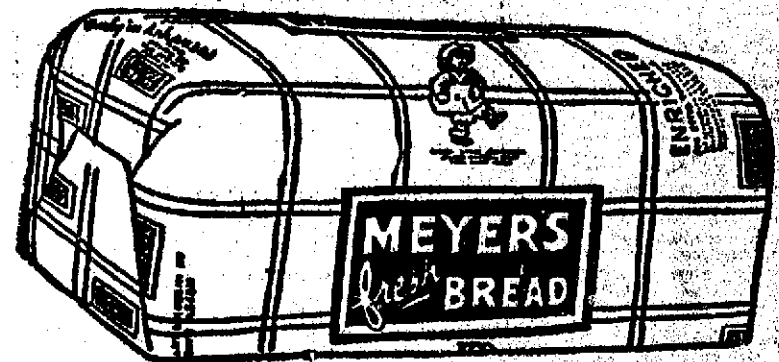

The prosecutor's office now is held by W. H. McClellan.

The Associated Press has reported erroneously that was a candidate for direct.

It is estimated that the States has 30,000 buses in its service.

It is estimated that U.S. lists in Canada spent a billion dollars last year.

Little Damage
as Quake Jars
California

Los Angeles, Jan. 12 —(AP)—Accompanied by heavy rumbling, a slight earthquake struck a large section of Southern California yesterday. But it caused no damage.
Heaviest jolts were felt in the tail city center buildings downtown, although the tremor was reported down to 75 miles inland to San Bernardino.

Geologists feared that oil wells in the Long Beach area, which suffered several million dollars damage in a quake Nov. 17, may have been disturbed anew.

Dr. Charles F. Richter, California Institute of Technology seismologist, said the epicenter was within 15 miles of Pasadena. He described the quake as comparatively small.

Another College Dropped From Undeclared Ranks

New York, Jan. 12 —(P)— Little Siena's 14-game winning streak, longest of the current college basketball season, came to an end last night.

Niagara handed Siena its first defeat of the year, 50-49, at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Siena, ranked 18th in this week's Associated Press poll to Niagara's 27th, led at one time, 25-22, but then faded. Niagara, beaten only by San Francisco in 11 games, led 36-7 at halftime and opened up a 49-33 bulge midway of the second half.

Western Kentucky, ranked 14th, fell before unranked Louisville, 79-59, in a major surprise. Louisville, playing at home, broke a 31-31 tie in the first half to win the 13th of 15 starts.

Around the Arkansas Sports Loop

By CARL BELL
Little Rock, Jan. 12 (P) — Reorganization of the University of Arkansas football coaching staff appears to be just about complete — for the time being, at least. But it doesn't include the one assistant most observers thought surely would be hired—a former quarterback to serve as backfield coach.

New Head Coach Otis Douglas may be biding his time to obtain the best available man for that job. Or, it could be that he plans a mighty lot of offensive ideas.

Afterthought: Arkansas didn't get Bob Woodruff, but it got rid of him. The Razorbacks may some day meet Florida, where Woodruff is coaching for $17,000 a year, but at least his new team won't be an annual Southwest conference foe as was his old one, Baylor. Arkansas lost to all three of the Baylor teams Woodruff coached.

Coach Jim Bearden thought his Fort Smith High school basketball team "lew" a game with El Dorado the other night. And the minute the game was over, he put his boys to work in a practice session.

Things are different this year with the Magnolia A. & M. women's basketball team, defending state AAU champion. It has 17 players. Last year personnel was so scarce that the team had to finish one of its AAU tourney games with only four (instead of six) players on the floor.

Horses will be running again at Hot Springs. Oklahoma park Feb.
20. The state has collected $5,104-128 in taxes on Spa racing since 1935. And, didja know that no jockey has ever ridden two winners in the Arkansas derby?

The Razorbacks will run into the Southwest conference's two highest scoring cagers in this week's visit to Texas. Rice's Joe McGinnis is tops with 216 points and followed by Texas A. & M.'s Jewell McDowell, who has damped
in 188.

At the moment Arkansas doesn't have a candidate for loose's point-making honors. Instead of having one real hotshot, the Porks have balance in the scoring column. Gerald Hudspeth has tallied 126 points, and Jimmy Cathcart has accounted for 101.
Six other players have made between 38 and 60 points apiece.

Washington, Jan. 11 —(P)— More trainloads of American-made tanks and other arms probably will soon be on the way to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Diplomatic authorities said today that 300 tanks and armored cars being put aboard a Turkish freighter at Philadelphia represented only a part of the belated deliveries of orders the Nationalists placed in this country last year. They were paid for from the $100,000,000 congress voted in 1948 for military aid to China.

Although President Truman has ruled out any further American military aid to keep Formosa from capture by the Communists, the government has been helping speed the completion of orders already placed. The shipment at Philadelphia came from an army ordnance depot at Lima, Ohio.

Some earlier shipments went via U. S. Navy transport ships.
Officials say there is no conflict between this action and Mr. Truman's thumbs down declaration of last week. The Nationalists already have title to the munitions now being shipped, having checked out the last of the $125-000,000 fund from the treasury months ago.

Most of it went to the defense department which either sold arms to the Chinese as surplus or advanced equipment which is to be replaced as now models are manufactured.

The Chinese embassy declined to say how much arms-on-order remained to be dispatched. If they are to be used, they will be sent over the sea to the defense of the island. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is believed to have some $100,000,000 left of the estimated $300,000,000 reserves which were transferred to Formosa from the mainland when the communists swept over the Yngtze valley last year.

Approximately 5,500 automotive patents are expected to be issued in 1949.

Christmas shopping is practically done. At top, Daphne Berlin your merchandise on its way—along with the bill. Below, Mable Scott transcribes the recorded order onto a regular order form.

THREE-IN-ONE X-RAY—Introduced to members of the Radiological Society of North America in convention in Cleveland, O., was this new X-ray machine which provides the widest range of radiation ever produced by a single unit. Developed by General Electric and called the Maxitron 250, the unit actually is three machines in one, producing X-rays at voltages ranging from 100,000 to 250,000. It can be used for a wide variety of X-ray treatments, ranging from "soft" rays for skin diseases to most penetrating rays for treating deep-seated malignancy.

El Dorado, Jan. 10 —(P) Mrs.
Mary Bumpus Freeman, 43, wife of Gordon N. Freeman of El Dorado and Pine Bluff, died unexpectedly at her home here this morning.

A first grade teacher in the El Dorado schools, she attended a school play last night and was stricken about 8:30 this morning.

A native of Washington, D. C., she lived in Pine Bluff from 1939 until moving here with her husband last year. Freeman is secretary-treasurer of the Commercial Printing company, publishers of the Pine Bluff Commercial, and is manager of the company's branch here.

In addition to her husband, Mrs.
Freeman is survived by her mother, Mrs. Leona Bumpus, El Dorado. Brief services will be held here tomorrow afternoon and service and burial will be in Pine Bluff Thursday afternoon.

pany, announced plans today to build 24

The tanks, which will be used

Snead-Hogan Playoff Delayed Week

Los Angeles, Jan. 12 (P)—Bantam Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, both of golf, and Slammin' Sammy Snead must wait a week for their Los Angeles Open title playoff.

They were set to sash it out yesterday over the rain-drenched Riverside Country club course. But 10 minutes before tee off time the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the $15,000 tourney, decided to call it off "in the interests of good golf."

Hogan, happy at the opportunity to rest his weary legs, and Snead both smiled in agreement. The 18-hole replay is set for next Wednesday.

The delay no doubt will help
Bantam Ben. Hogan and Sam Snead are still talking about his amazing comeback. This was his first tournament after a Texas auto accident last February which nearly cost his life and left his legs crippled for months.

Hogan, after a two-over-par first round of 73, steadied over par for three successive 69s for a 72-hole 280, playing like the Hogan of old.

Snead, still on the course when the final two holes at 280. He got them with 10 and 15-foot putts.

This gives him a crack at the $2,600 first prize. Second spot earns $1,900.

Oklahoma Students Demonstrate Against Communist

Norman, Okla., Jan. 11 (AP)—Angry University of Oklahoma students shouted their protest last night as they burned a 15-foot cross outside the building in which he Communist party chairman of Oklahoma spoke.

The group demonstrated against Allen Shaw's address, which was made at Hill house, just off the campus, and sponsored by the civil rights committee.

Glenn Wilson, reporter for the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman, said three persons attacked him after he left the house to telephone the story of his paper. But he broke away and was not injured.

Amid shouts of "dirty communist" and "come out before we burn the house down," Shaw told his audience of 40 persons:

"This is a symbol of the very thing I've been discussing. It's mass hysteria, closed minds. Happening on a university campus it is an ominous sign. This is where ideas should be discussed with open minds.

Sponsor of the talk is composed of students but not an official school organization. The house, owned by Hillel foundation, a Jewish religious organization was rented to the committee.

Norman police arrived on the scene but took no action.
